Sharing HIS Kind of Love

Testimonials:

“Diana Leigh Matthews removes the mask and shares her story of hope and healing from her own deepest pain. With a heart for the hurting, she encourages women to forget the past and move into the future God has for them. “ Vonda Skelton, Christian Communicators Co-Director; author of Seeing Through the Lies

“Leagh’s warm personality and love for Jesus is evident to all who know her. She is a gifted vocalist, speaker, writer, and genealogist who loves to share her journey of overcoming adversity through word and song.” Glenda Mills

“Leagh captured my heart with her music. Her voice is pure and trusting in the One who gives music to our souls. Listen and allow her to capture your heart.” Marcia Gaddis

Leagh, has an amazing story to tell, a song to sing and a heart for her Beloved Savior. She touches her audiences with sincerity, a life filled with faith and encouragement to take the next step with Christ’s side.”

Carolyn Knefely, co-director of Christian Communicators Conference and Go with Vision

Leagh is a novelist at heart. She is still on her path to having her novels published. She won an award for one of her unpublished manuscripts.

Leagh also has several e-books that will be coming out before the end of 2016 on the subjects of Domestic Violence and Genealogy.

“Music is the expression of my soul.”

Leagh loves music and the ability to express herself with her talents.

She has been playing the piano since she was four, performed with her minister father for 15 years until his death, and has a Bachelor’s Degree in Music. Her heart is lifting her voice up to God through song.
